

Permaculture and Sustainability Study Group

Detroit, Michigan

In this weekly study group focused on the exciting work of greening the brown zones of Detroit, participants discuss and develop gardening projects, study permaculture techniques and their application to the city, and work on collective projects to create green/sustainable economies in Detroit. To learn more, visit www.myspace.com/spiritofhope_farm. (AN)
